General information on police crime statistics (PCS)

1. Importance

Police crime statistics serve to:

- monitor crime and individual types of offences, the size and composition of the circle of suspects and fluctuations in crime rates,
- gather information for law enforcement purposes, for organisational planning and decision making and
- carry out socio-criminological research and criminal police measures.

2. Contents

The police crime statistics are so-called outgoing statistics. This means that the statistics contain only those offences which have come to police attention, been processed by the police and, before compilation begins, passed to the public prosecutor's office. These statistics also include attempts subject to punishment and drug offences processed by the customs authorities. The PCS do not cover state security offences, traffic offences (with exception to offences against Sections 315 and 315b of the Penal code and Section 22a of the Road Traffic Act), criminal offences committed outside the Federal Republic of Germany and offences against the criminal laws of the individual German states (Länder) with the exception of the relevant provisions in the data protection legislation of the states.

The PCS contain, in particular, information on:

- the type and number of recorded criminal offences,
- the date and place of the offence,
- the victims and criminal damage,
- the clear-up rate,
- the suspects' age, gender, nationality and other characteristics.

3. Validity

The PCS only cover those criminal offences which have been recorded by the police and therefore by definition do not contain undetected criminal offences. The number of recorded cases differs from offence to offence and is also dependent on the extent to which offences are reported to the police.

Crime trends in 2012

1. In general

The total number of recorded criminal offences increased by 0.1 % compared to the previous year (2012: 5,997m incidents, 2011: 5,990m incidents). Once again this figure fell below the 6 million mark.

2. Clear-up rate

The total clear-up rate is 54.4 % (2011: 54.7 %, 2010: 56 %, 2009: 55.6 %, 2008: 54.8 %, 2007: 55 %). The clear-up rate for murder and manslaughter is particularly high at 96.0 %, as is the case with regard to crimes related to services, especially transport fraud and welfare fraud (98.9 %). The clear-up rate for theft offences with aggravated circumstances (e.g. bicycle theft, domestic burglary, theft of non-cash means of payment) is particularly low, at 14.8 %.

3. Offence rate

The offence rate (criminal offences committed per 100,000 inhabitants) is an indicator of the threat posed by crime. The offence rate fell slightly compared to the previous year (2012: 7,327 - 2011: 7,328).

4. Suspects

The number of suspects fell by 0.9 % to 2,094,118 in 2012, 531,928 of whom were female suspects (25.4 %). The percentage of other groups of suspects also fell: children (6 to under 14-year-olds) -11.9 %, juveniles (14 to under 18-year-olds) -6.7 %, young adults (18 to under 21-year-olds), -4.0 %.

The fall in violent crimes by juvenile suspects recorded in recent years continued in 2012 with a total of 27,095 (2011: 31,730). This applies in particular to dangerous and serious bodily injury, where 21,066 suspects were recorded (2011: 25,222).
